THE SPEAKER:

Jonny Seccombe studied geography and geology at Oxford University and has worked in the water treatment industry investigating the performance of physical water conditioners over the last 31 years.

Jonny lives in the UK but visits the USA every month where he is based in Las Vegas.

He regularly speaks on the subject of physical water conditioners. In addition to his work with ASPE, Jonny is an accredited CPU provider with the Chartered Institute of Building Services Engineers and the Chartered Institute of Plumbing and Heating Engineers in the UK.
